Dear Catherine,

I am writing to let you know that I would like, subject to the agreement of the Commission, to join FIPRA, a public affairs network in Europe (see www.fipra.com), as an independent part time Special Adviser. I would be advising clients largely on matters nor directly linked with my recent mandate at the Commission.

If however at any point FIPRA were to ask me to work on any matters that might be linked to my mandate I would let you know and, where necessary and appropriate, I would excuse myself therefrom.

If you require a signed copy of this letter please tell me and I will immediately remit one by post.

With best wishes,

Joe Borg.

Dear Catherine,

I wonder whether you have had the time to look into my request to join FIPRA. I will be attending an event organized by them in Berlin at the end of next week. I have been invited to attend as prospective Special Adviser and I have accepted on the understanding that I will not be formally intervening in the discussions. On another point. I will be resuming lecturing duties with the University of Malta with effect from the beginning of the coming academic year (beginning of October). I used to lecture there up to the time I took up office as European Commissioner. I assume that it will be ok for me to do so.

Kind regards,

Joe Borg.
